Summary

I utilize my background as a college librarian and educator, my experience in web design & development, content creation, organization, & management, and user experience design, and my educational knowledge of the field of psychology every day. I approach projects with passion and believe in focusing on understanding both the user or customer and the client or organization.

UX/Web Design Experience

User Experience Design Student

September 2017 – January 2018

Prime Digital Academy, Minneapolis, MN

Individual Project: Mid-Continent Oceanographic Institute (MOI)

- Problem: High school students don't utilize MOI's creative writing & tutoring programs as often as younger students.
- Solution: Developed a UX design strategy and web page prototypes aimed at developing partnerships with other organizations and introducing a new workshop experience for high school students.

Group Project: James J. Hill Center

- Problem: Users are unsure about the identity of the Hill Center as well as what resources, services, programs, and events are provided through the center.
- Solution: Created an app to address user confusion with the identity and purpose of the Hill Center.

Selected Additional Projects

- BackpackEMR: Created annotated wireframes aimed at extending data tracking & reporting functionality for this mobile system.
- Recreogo: Examine and evaluate the website and admin portal and make suggestions for the future design and development of the site.
- People Sourced Policy: Review a budget education app and investigate ways that a newly developed app could be more effective.
